A - Assistant

I would be J-Lo's assistant. I would be her assistant because I think she's freaking cool and I think that she could teach me a lot about the entertainment business. I think that if I was her assistant I would get to see other celebrities and I would be able to go to all the cool parties.

B—Bother

What bothers me the most are liars. I HATE when people lie all the time. I HATE when people feel the need to tell a lie - which usually gets them into more trouble - than if they just actually told the truth. I think that people should always tell the truth - especially loved one and people who say they are your friends.

C—Collection

We collect shot glasses from different places. Every time we go on vacation to somewhere new we make sure to get a shot glass from that place. We also make sure that if there is different currency we get some of that places currency as well. Another thing that we like to collect is sand from different beaches in the world. We like to put the sand in bottles and display them for other people to see.
